THE CANYON
WILL BE DRY

By accurately computing 60 days of time from March 9, when the state legislature adjourned, the county commissioners in special session yesterday afternoon arrived at the conclusion that they had lost jurisdiction in the matter of granting licenses for the retail sale of liquor in the county outside of cities of the first and second class.

The computation was made necessary because of a motion to reconsider the action of the commissioners Monday in refusing to grant a retail liquor license to W. G. Wilson and Clifford S. Potter in Ogden canyon.

With the assistance of astute lawyers and expert accountants, it was discovered that the sixty days elapsed at midnight Monday night.

This means that Ogden canyon will be "legally dry" this year.

The commissioners passed a resolution providing for a levy of a road tax of three mills for the Riverside road district, the purpose being to make extended improvements on the county roads at that place.

The regulation of Sheriff Harrison for eight 16-gauge, sawed-off repeating shotguns was taken under advisement.

The sheriff wants these guns for the use of deputies in the rural districts.

MANY GAMBLERS
QUIT BINGHAM

Bingham City, May 9.—Bingham will obey the new gambling law to the letter. Promptly at 21 o'clock this morning gambling tables and devices of every kind were piled up like so much cordwood, ready to be hauled away and stored.

This is not only the case in the town of Bingham, but at Upper Bingham, Highland Boy and all other territory outside the town limits. Bingham has been one of the wide-open camps for years, and the transformation is marked today, whole wagonloads of gambling paraphernalia being hauled away for storage. There seems to be no disposition on the part of anybody to act in defiance of the law.

The deputy sheriffs have received strict orders from the sheriff's office, but as yet have had no occasion to insist upon the enforcement of the law.

Ten o'clock closing will go into effect tonight as a matter of course, and no violations of the law in this respect are at all anticipated. All were notified when the law would go into effect, and yielded to the inevitable without a murmur.

Probably 75 gamblers have already left camp and many more will follow. Moving picture shows, slot machines, chairs, tables, orchestras and other attractions in saloons are now of the past. The town today seems like Sunday, due to the exodus of the knights of the green cloth.

IMPORTANT BILLS
BEFORE CONGRESS

Washington, May 10.—Neither branch of congress was in session today, but there was more or less activity of committees.

Interest on the senate side of the capital lay chiefly in the continued hearings on Canadian reciprocity before the finance committee.

Farmers, paper manufacturers and wool manufacturers had obtained reservations of time in which to address the committee. Some of those who talked were before that body when the last congress considered the subject. They seemed to direct their remarks largely to the new members of the committee.

The house committee on territories again considered a bill for Arizona and New Mexico, delay having been caused by Republican insistence that New Mexico be admitted without the necessity of voting on a proposed amendment. There will be a minority report when the resolution is submitted to the house Friday.

EXPECT W. P. T. TO EARN EXPENSES

New York, May 9.—The Western Pacific construction account will be closed on June 30 next. On and after that date the company's earnings and credit will be expected to provide for current operating and interest requirements of the new line.

Ever since the Western Pacific first mortgage bonds began to draw interest on September 1, 1905, this interest has been charged to the construction account, as have also operating expenses, since the line was opened up for traffic over a year ago.

Revenues derived from traffic have been credited to this account and for this reason the officials of the company have in the past year declined to reveal what progress the road was making as a revenue producer.

With the beginning of the new fiscal year, the earnings will be published monthly, and owners of Western Pacific securities will be let into the secret of the new road's earning capacity, which the management has so far chosen to conceal.

Up to June 30 next the Western Pacific will have charged to construction account approximately $14,500,000, representing five and five-sixths years' interest on its first mortgage bonds.

Although the cost of construction and of bringing the Pacific coast extension up to the producing stage has exceeded the original estimates by many millions, the new line is expected to justify its expensive construction.

BOMB WAS PLACED AGAINST TOMBS

New York, May 10.—A suspected attempt to destroy the Tombs prison by a bomb was frustrated late last night by a court interpreter, who caused the sudden arrest of an Italian youth and an old woman companion when he saw them placing a small round object under the famous "Bridge of Sighs," which connects the prison with the courts building adjoining.

The interpreter overheard the woman whisper in Italian, "Yes, place it there against the prison wall, where it will do most good."

The man did as he was told and the two slunk off down a dark alley. The interpreter sent a policeman post haste after them, while he grabbed the "bomb" and threw it into a puddle of water.

The bomb on examination proved to be a small brown beanpot filled with a white powder which the aged woman prisoner said was a "magic cure for consumption."

SPECIMENS OF A RARE MAMMAL

Chicago, May 10.—What is regarded as an important scientific achievement was announced at Field museum yesterday when Wilfrid H. Osgood, assistant curator of zoology, arrived in Chicago after a four months' trip to South America.

Mr. Osgood succeeded in capturing ten specimens of an order of mammalia marsupial, all other members of whose family are extinct.

"It is a small mammal, of course," Prof. Osgood explained, "it looks something like the opossum, except that it is smaller and its fur is brown. The tail is rat-like, but square, instead of round. The pouch is rudimentary, not large enough to carry the young as the kangaroo does. The bones of extinct members of the same family have been found in Patagonia, but there are no other living members of the family."

MAN SOLD HIS BODY AND SOUL

Chicago, May 10.—Charles Kittick, who sold his "body and soul" to seven nurses at the National Maternity hospital, died last night at the hospital where he was being cared for.

Kittick was suffering from a peculiar form of locomotor ataxia and by the terms of the bill of sale of his body, the corpse will be used for clinical study.

Kittick sold himself for $70 and he used the money to pay the last bill he owed—his room rent. Record of the sale was filed with the county recorder yesterday.

GEO. HANKINS, FAMOUS
HORSEMAN IS DYING

Chicago, May 10.—Geo. V. Hankins, who, a quarter of a century ago, was one of the best known turfmen in the country, is ill at the home of a relative in Gary, Ind., and his physicians have small hope of his recovery. Hankins built the Garfield Park and the Harlem race tracks in this city and out of the former he is credited with having a great fortune. The closing of racing in Chicago and unfavorable real estate speculations, it is said, wiped out the greater part of his fortune. In 1890 his horses, Uncle Bob, won the American derby at Washington Park.

DEDICATED
PARK

Glenwood park was fittingly dedicated to Chautauqua purposes by the Chautauqua association when an elaborate luncheon was served in the park at noon today.

At a meeting which was held after the luncheon the members of the association decided that the meet to be held in July should be known as the Utah Chautauqua meet and that all subsequent assemblies shall also be known by this name. Hereafter the Chautauqua association will be called the Utah Chautauqua Association and the board most likely will be composed of persons from various parts of the state.

It is now certain that the governor of the state will be present on the opening day of the meet and that the president of the Mormon church will be here on Pioneer Day. One of the big features of the assembly will be the pageants, or outdoor plays, in which the progress of civilization in Utah will be portrayed. It is expected that about three hundred persons will take part in these historic pageants.

A special sale of tickets will be made by the association next week. The regular price of day tickets will be fifty cents each while season tickets will be sold at $3 each. During next week season tickets will be sold at $2. It is expected that at least a thousand tickets will be purchased during the special sale.

At the meeting held in the park this afternoon the following persons were present:

Dr. E. P. Mills, Prof. J. M. Mills, Mayor William Glasman, Rev. F. G. Brainerd, Rev. W. W. Fleetwood, Prof. W. Henderson, J. J. Brumby, R. R. Lewis, O. A. Parmley, Don McGuire, S. W. Wherry, Rev. Fredrick V. Fisher and Prof. J. A. Smith.

Desperate Bandits
In Salt Lake City

It struck me. At first I hardly realized that I had been hit, the only indication being a stinging sensation in my left leg. I looked around for my sister, but I had fled as the holdup, pursued by the crowd, neared the corner. Not until I went into the barber shop did I know that I had been shot.

"I do not think I was hit by a bullet from the holdup's gun. A plain clothes man had a weapon in his hand when, after firing twice, clubbed him with his revolver and then he shot which he fired that seemed to glance and strike me."

At the office of Dr. Beer, an examination was made of the wound, and one-half of what appeared to be the slug from a .38-calibre cartridge was removed. The leg entered the leg, a trifle to the left of the shin bone, penetrating the flesh to a depth of two inches. Only a part of the bullet was removed last night, a swelling which rapidly set in making it impossible to probe the wound further. Whether this was all of the bullet that struck Mr. Higgins has not been determined yet. An X-ray photograph will be taken today, to determine whether or not a part of the bullet is still left in the wound. Because of the swelling, Dr. Beer was unable to determine last night whether the bullet had any bones shattered by the bullet.

Are Old Schoolmates.
Not until the wound had been dressed by Dr. Beer and Mr. Higgins both ready for removal to his home, did either recognize the other as a former schoolmate.

Mr. Higgins, the surgeon, uttered an exclamation of surprise.

"You're not Frank Higgins?"

Mr. Higgins replied in the affirmative.

"Well, well," Dr. Beer said, as he clasped the hand of the patient, "you don't remember me. You remember Frank Beer who used to go to school with you in 1875 and '82?"

The patient clasped the hand of the surgeon, as signs of recognition flashed across his features.

Mr. Higgins then was placed in Dr. Beer's automobile and removed to his home, while both the doctor and the patient plan for a happy reunion and mutual talk of events since 1880, the last time the two had met to know each other, prior to yesterday's meeting.

Eye Witness Describes Murder.
Edward H. Roberts, an advertising agent, who stopping temporarily in the city, was one of the eye-witnesses to the murder of Axel.

"I was walking east on Second South street, near the Cullen hotel when I heard shots and realized that something out of the ordinary was going on. I ran down past the Desky store on Second South street. At this time I could see hundreds of people in pursuit of the two holdups. Just as I passed the corner one of the robbers, whom I afterward learned was Murray, was surrounded and captured about the middle of the street, between the Continental bank and the Desky store."

Then I saw Morris run onto the sidewalk near Held's store. Axel—I learned his name later—grabbed Morris as he was running east. I saw Morris's gun and I called to Axel: 'Let him loose, he has a gun and will kill you.' At this Morris tore himself loose from Axel's breast and shot him in the back.

"Morris then wheeled and shot again. The bullet struck the man whom I later learned was Wellman. I ran to Wellman's aid and he said he believed he was shot. I saw the blood on his shirt and tearing open the shirt the wound was displayed. It was near the nipple on the right breast. I assisted a number of men whom I did not know to place Wellman in an automobile and he was taken to a hospital."

"I heard still another shot, but I did not know where it took effect or not. Almost immediately Morris was knocked down and overpowered and taken to the police station in an automobile."

In Judge Howell's court the following jurors empaneled to serve during the May term have been excused:

James S. Burrows, Angus T. Lockhead and Frank G. Ellis, not within the jurisdiction of the court Hyrum Belnap, business affairs George McElroy, deafness; Robert M. Robinson, sickness; Frank Francis, claim of exemption as an editor.

The trial of the damage case of James Theodorson against the Oregon Short Line company was taken up this morning by Judge Howell, the following jury having been secured for the case yesterday afternoon:

Alex Chatelein, Lewis R. Jenkins, Charles R. Drummer, Herman B. Denkers, W. J. Critchlow, Ephraim Crawshaw, Thomas Smith and F. W. Foulger.

The suit is for damages for personal injuries, alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff while working for the defendant company at Pin Green, Idaho, last July, the amount asked for being $5,750.

The plaintiff was placed on the witness stand this forenoon and he testified that, while working for the company in the unloading of ties from flat cars, he was directed to remove the ties from the bottom of the pile, rather than the top and that, through the carelessness of the company in not providing sufficient protection for him, some of the ties rolled on him and crushed him, inflicting serious injuries upon his body.

BE STRENGTHENED

Owners and managers of Utah State League teams are spending considerable time this week strengthening up their teams and getting them in shape for the games next Saturday and Sunday. Exhibition games will be played during the week and daily practices will be held.

Bert Margets, whose Salt Lake team has been considered crippled by the loss of several of his best men to organized baseball leagues, is not discouraged by this depletion in the ranks of his players and is preparing to import others to take their places.

Since starting his team in Salt Lake he has lost Walsh and Pendleton, infielders, to the Salt Lake club in the Union association; Harmon, outfielder, to the Missouri team in the same league; and now Annis, his crack pitcher, goes back to the Tacoma club of the Northwestern league.

Annis Goes to Tacoma.
Annis came to Salt Lake from the Tacoma club in the Northwestern league. The portwheelers jumped, claiming that Tacoma owed him "two-three days" salary.

The Tacoma club, it is understood, has agreed to make up this salary and offers Annis a bonus of $100 if he will return and Annis, it was reported Sunday, would return to the northwest, leaving today or tomorrow.

Lehr, the Colorado boy catching for the Salt Lake team, is likely to be the hand of organized baseball for failing to live up to a reported agreement to join the Missoula Union league team. After accepting "Scrap" Bill Joyce's terms to catch for him, Lehr is understood, will refuse to report to Missoula and in Union league circles it was said Sunday night that five years' suspension for Lehr will follow.

In place of Annis, Margets is negotiating for McCreary, who finished the season last year with the Salt Lake club of the state league, and in place of Walsh and Pendleton he is after Rawlins and Goodman, two crack infielders from the coast. These additions should make his team one of the strongest in the league, despite his losses.

The Murray team is still practically intact. Its most serious loss was that of Hummel and Heusser, its two star players.

YOUNG MAN ARRESTED IN RENO

Henry S. Harris, who made his home in this city for several weeks leaving here a few days ago for Reno, Nev., is now locked in the Reno jail on a charge of forgery.

Harris it is alleged, passed a number of bogus checks in the Nevada city for amounts averaging about $11. His arrest was brought about by one of his victims who trails him to his room and later called an officer and had the man placed under arrest.

It is not believed that Harris did anything of a criminal nature while in Ogden. In his alleged forgeries in Reno he used the name Harold Carlson.
